is 338,057, which on a registration of 863,356 shows a loss of 6.9 per cent. That is, the vote returned, whether accurately returned or not, is about normal or a little under normal as a total vote and might have been predicted within a few thousand. On the head of the ticket at any election the effective vote in this county has generrally run in past years from 5 to 7 per cent. short of the registration. McClellan's total Vote, 229,083, is 85,678 short of his total vote

The total vote for District Attorney also is normal as compared with four years ago. The total vote is 327,400, a loss from the registration of 9.9 per cent. In 1901 the registration was 359,000 and the vote 326,000: loss of 9.2 per cent. Mr. Jerome's total Vote is 43,940 less than the vote that elected him four years ago with 18,000 plurality. The plurality of Metz, Democrat, for

These Republicans said yesterday that Odell's elevation of Halpin to be president of the county committee had been most distressing to them. They declared that Halpin was in no way worthy to hold the place either in the matter of political ability or personal advantages. The shockingly low vote given for William M. Ivins on Tuesday in Manhattan and The Bronx was an evidence, these Republicans declared, of the shabby political abilities of Halpin, who is variously known in the county as Bouquet Billy and Odell's stepand-fetch-it. It was remarked with a grin yesterday that on Tuesday "nobody cheated for Ivins." The Ivins vote on Tuesday in Manhattan and The Bronx footed up 64,354. In 1901 Seth Low, the candidate of the Bronx 162,298. In 1903 Mr. Low received in the same territory 132,178. In 1897 Gen. Tracy, the candidate for Mayor of the New York Republican county organization, received in the same territory 55,834. In other words, after nine years, during which the total vote of New York city has been increased by over 100,000 votes, Ivins, the first straightout Republican candidate for Mayor since Gen. Tracy's time in 1897, received in this county only 9,000 more votes than Tracy. W. Bagley placed about $23,000 to $8,000 The Republicans of prominence who are at the December meeting of the New York Republican county committee declared also that Odell had personally affronted them and all the Republicans in Manhattan and Bronx boroughs when he elevated a man of Halpin's political inexperience to represent them. These Republicans added that they were very well satisfied when they were represented by men of affairs in the party like Elihu Root, Cornelius N. Bliss, Col. Cruger, Edward Lauterbach, Lemuel E. Quigg and M. Linn Bruce, but that they had been chagrined and humiliated when a mere election district captain like Halpin had been thrust forward to head the great Republican party in New York

Halpin, it was stated, has held his place during the last year because Odell was behind him and because certain Republican Assembly district leaders had been told by Halpin a year ago that Odell was to control the Federal patronage in New York county. Halpin, it was furthermore stated, had been sustained in his place by Odell because Odell had told other district leaders that he could control Gov. Higgins in the matter of Odell's deal with Hearst on Assemblymen and Aldermen, which was backed up by Halpin, was very severely criticised by Republicans yesterday. They declared that Odell's deal with Hearst in these offices had real interest in the election centres in the not been intended to benefit the Republican return of Mr. Jerome as a victory of purity party, and furthermore that this deal could not benefit the party, but that its primary and all-absorbing motive was to benefit the personal and political fortunes of Odell. While Odell gained a number of Odell-Hearst Assemblymen and Aldermen. his real power in New York county was demonstrated by the Ivins vote of 64,354.

Gov. Higgins has said over and over again that he hopes to leave the party in the State in as good condition as he found it in. The foregoing statement is not meant to imply that Gov. Higgins is not to succeed himself at Albany. The total vote for Ivins in all the boroughs of New York city on Tuesday was 138,118, The total vote in the same territory for Gov. Higgins a vear ago was 262,294, or a difference of 124,176 votes. This showing, in the estimation of Republicans yesterday, is nothing short of disgraceful. They declared that Halpin must go turned down. Senator Knox never was very well known around Pittsburg, and since he entered public life so much of his time has been spent out of the city that he is less known than formerly. Up until a few years ago Senator Knox voted in the Twentieth ward, but when he went to Washington he gave up his residence there and has had a suite of rooms at the Hotel Schenley, which he retains the year round, and now votes in the Fourteenth ward. Senator Knox walked from the Schenley down to No. 4 police station, his polling place. He went into a booth, prepared his ballot, walked up to the box and was

terday While Neighbors Floundered. The city election returns, while they were distinguished on Tuesday night by phenomenal fluctuations, were never since the consolidation of the city gathered by THE Sun so swiftly and completely or printed so early. THE SUN's system of collection was built just to meet such a strain, ir which estimates and averages won't do and you have got to get the actual figures. This was especially true in regard to the Republicans of prominence organized a contest for the District Attorneyship. While other morning newspapers were announcing that Mr. Jerome was "probably elected," and one of them gave his plurality as less than 2,000, THE SUN was able to present a table giving the detailed vote by Assembly districts, which showed with substantial accuracy what his actual plurality was.

THE SUN collects the returns through its own bureau. The Herald said this morning:

"The City News Association reports that returns never before came in so unsatisfactorily as last night. At 2 o'clock this morning 51 election districts were missing on Mayor, 134 on Comptroller and 150 on President of the Board of Aldermen.

Over here the case was entirely different At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the entire canvass was practically completed, and in the last edition, which was on the press before 3 o'clock, there appeared a table showing the vote for District Attorney with only 86 election districts missing, and a table showing the vote for Mayor with only 19 out of 1.948 election districts miss-

The Herald also announced that in view fusionists, received in Manhattan and The of the closeness of the vote for Mayor it was entirely possible that McGowan, the Tammany nominee for President of the Board of Aldermen, was defeated by Stokes, the Municipal Ownership candidate, which would have split the Board of Estimate 9 to 7. At the same time THE SUN presented a table showing that McGowan was in no danger of defeat. It had announced in its earliest edition the fact of his election and the fact that the Board of Estimate will stand 12 to 4.

The accuracy of THE SUN's figures was well illustrated in the returns from Brookengaged in the movement to unseat Halpin lyn. In the first city edition it was stated that Hearst's plurality in that borough was 15.965, which was only 19 less than the revised count gave him. The returns had been revised three times by 1:45 o'clock in the morning, and the results, as incoming returns altered them, appeared in three editions sent to press promptly on time. On the other hand the fifth edition of the New York Times declared that Jerome's plurality was 1,377. Many of the evening newspapers of yesterday kept up the tale of a small plurality for Jerome and many missing districts until something seemed to strike them in the afternoon and they jumped the plurality to 11,000. Meantime THE EVENING Sun was getting in the missing districts, and Jerome's plurality was rising from 13,000 to 15,000, to become 16,255 at 5 o'clock P. M., with every district in and counted.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOOTS TWO MEN

She Came to Town to Shoot and Said She Was Satisfied.

The wounds are not dangerous. The young woman attempted to shoot Policeman Scallon when he placed her under arrest, but the revolver missed fire. After being locked in a cell she refused to give her name, but finally said she was Christine Barr, Barre, Vt., 21 years old and unmarried; that she came to Woodsville in the afternoon for the express purpose of shooting somebody for fun. She said she had her fun and was satisfied. She was well dressed and well supplied with money, but is evidently in-

BARRE, Vt., Nov. 8 .- Christine Barr, who was arrested at Woodsville, N. H., last night on a charge of shooting two men, and thought to be insane, is a native of Barre and a daughter of C. Barr, a photographer. She left home shortly after noon yesterday saying she was going to make some calls. When she did not return inquiries were made for her, but without result, and while search was still being made a telegram was received from Woodsville saying she was under arrest there.

Miss Barr is an attractive young woman. and had been active in church work in this city, and was a delegate to a recent Epworth League convention.

TELLS OF LAND FRAUDS.

Agent of the Gang Confesses to the Scheme -Old Soldiers Implicated.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8 .- At last the United States attorneys are behind the scenes in the great Western land grabs and have secured a confession from one who was deep in the schemes whereby millions of acres of public lands have been stolen. The session of the Federal Grand Jury bids fair to return hundreds of indictments against perjury in carrying out the schemes of the Attorney Frank Lambert, who was brought back from Oregon last week on a charge of subornation of perjury in connection with the frauds, has made a clean breast of the scheme, acknowledging that he acted as go-between for the cattlemen and old soldiers and has agreed to go before the Grand Jury and tell all he knows in hope of being dealt leniently with.

According to Lambert, he acted as agent for the cattle kings for the purpose of securing soldiers' homesteads and entries. He avers that he did a wholesale business and received $50 for each filing he procured. The soldiers took the lands with the understanding that they were to be relinquished to the cattlemen, thereby perjuring themselves. Many thousands of acres were relinquished in this way. The soldiers implicated are scattered over Nebraska and Iowa, with a few in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri and other central States, and quite a few are in Government homes for soldiers in different States. The Federal Grand Jury will convene next week, and much of its time will be devoted to Lambert's dis-

TROUBLE STARTS IN DOMINGO.

UNITED STATES WARSHIP OR-DERED TO MACORIS.

Suspicion That Americans With Claims Against the Government Are Back of the Revolt-Fear Investigation If Treaty Giving Us Control Is Ratified.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 .- Instructions have een sent to Rear Admiral Bradford, commanding the Caribbean squadron, to send a warship at once to Macoris, a port on the south side of Santo Domingo, where an attempt has been made to start a revolution to overthrow the Morales government. The State Department was informed today of the outbreak at Macoris, hitherto not regarded as a danger point, and the Navy Department was asked to take immediate steps to protect the Americans who have control of the custom house there under the modus vivendi arranged by President Roosevelt and President Morales last spring. The State Department has few details except that some arrests have been made by the authorities at Macoris.

The most startling feature of the matter is the belief, expressed here to-day that American interests are behind the attempt to overthrow Morales. These interests are supposed to have aided the revolutionists by furnishing money and arms. If the treaty, which will be brought before the United States Senate for ratification at the coming session, is ratified, all claims against the Dominican Government will be carefully adjudicated and many will undoubtedly be abrogated. Holders of claims that are likely to be thrown out by a commission appointed to pass upon them would be greatly interested in the overthrow of the Morales government. Then, too, any serious outbreak in Santo Domingo would considerably minimize the chances of the reaty being ratified, for there are many Senators who now feel that if this Government undertakes to handle the finances of Santo Domingo there will be continual trouble, in which the United States would become deeply involved. The administration has feared that there would be some outbreak such as seems to have taken place at Macoris. Several weeks ago President Roosevelt, at the request of the Dominican Government, issued proclamation prohibiting the exportation of arms, ammunition or munitions of war from any port of the United States or Porto Rico to Santo Domingo. It became known then that there had been a steady stream of arms leaking through the custom houses and being smuggled into Santo Domingo, and serious results were feared.

Americans, selected by President Roosevelt and appointed by President Morales, have been in charge of the customs of Santo Domingo since last May. A portion of the money collected has been deposited in a New York bank as part of a trust fund for the payment of Dominican creditors in case the treaty is ratified, when the arrangement will continue practically the same as at present, except that this Government will e in actual control.

There have been one or two incipient rows in Santo Domingo since the collectors from this country took charge, but all have been characterized as hardly worthy of notice. The most recent attack was made by outlaws on David F. Morris, a collector. who was working on the Haytian border. He was slightly wounded.

Admiral Bradford has enough o'clock, were shot by a young woman who and marines around Santo Domingo to quell any uprising which may occur. According to the latest reports received at the Navy Department the ships of the Caribbean squadron are scattered about as follows: The cruisers Olympia, flagship, and Denver at Guantanamo; the cruiser Cleveland at Sanchez; the cruisers Des Moines and Yankee and the gunboat Nashville at Monte Cristi; the cruiser Newport at Puerto Plata and the gunboat Scorpion at Santo Domingo city.

ITALIAN DECOYED TO DEATH Pietro Polandro, a Tailor of This City Murdered in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 .- On the second floor of a little grocery shop on Passyunk avenue to-day, the murdered body of Pietro Polandro, believed to have been an Italian tailor of New York City, was found. His murderers are thought by the police to have been the two Italians and their women companions who for the last three months have lived in the second story over the grocery shop kept by Morris Schuckman. Polandro was decoyed to the city, killed and robbed. There are many indications pointing to a black hand crime.

Mrs. Schuckman missed her tenants today. She remembered a struggle she had heard on Monday night, and became suspicious. She notified the police, and they broke open the door. Lying on the floor was the body of a man. His head was the centre of a large circle of blood, which spread out over the floor. A few feet away lay a tailor's goose iron covered with blood. The room was upset and betrayed evidences of a struggle. The victim's collar and necktie, which had been torn off, lay several feet from the body on the floor. One of the legs of his trousers had been slit from hip to ankle. An empty money bag, which the murdered man had evidently worn about his leg, was also near by cattlemen and old soldiers who committed | Examination of the dead man's body disclosed the fact that the back of the skull had been mashed, presumably with the goose

Mrs. Schuckman said that she had seen the murdered man about the place for four or five days. He was always well dressed and seemed to have money. Further investigation brought forth facts tending to show that the Italian had been lured to Philadelphia for the purpose of murder and robbbery.

Shortly before midnight, Capt. Donaghy announced that his detectives have found the hiding place of the four suspects. He said their trunks have all been packed ready for flight, but he expects his men to arrest them before they can get away.

MORMONS LOSE SALT LAKE. Independent Gentile Beats Smoot's Man and the Mormon Democrat. SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 8 .- The Gentiles have won complete control of the Salt Lake city government, electing every man on the city ticket and a majority of the city Council. Ezra Thompson, Gentile, has a plurality of 925 for Mayor. Richard P. Morris, Mormon Democrat and present Mayor, is second. W. J. Lynch, Gentile Republican, the Smoot candidate is third.

The Republicans carried the city by pluralities ranging from 3,000 to 4,000 on local candidates last fall. Their defeat this year is easily traced to the interference of Smoot. Until last Sunday Lynch's victory was practically conceded. The city is likely to remain under gentile control indefinitely. The official count may result in adding another gentile to the city council, but gentiles have a good working majority in of Elections, the lawyers said, had been the body regardless of this.

2.000 KEGS OF POWDER SET OFF. Done to Show a Coroner's Jury That It Wouldn't Tear Up the Ground.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 8.-Two thousand kegs of mining powder, representing a value of $10,000, were exploded here this afternoon by the Rand Powder Company, to impress on a Coroner's jury a contested point. The jury is sitting on the cases of eighteen persons who were killed here in an explosion on September 9, when 10,000 kegs of powder and 700 pounds of dynamite were touched off.

The powder people have taken the ground that the explosion of September 9 was the work of vandals, that either nitroglycerine or fulminate of mercury was piled near the big magazines and exploded, Mr. Hearst himself. The affidavit states taking the powder and dynamite with it.

In defence of this they maintain that exploding powder does not tear great holes in the ground, such as were found after the big explosion of September 9, and that only fulminate of mercury or nitroglycerine will do this. They offered to take the Coroner's jury to Fairchance, the scene of the late explosion, and there touch off enough powder to jar this end of the county, and the jury accepted the offer.

When the jury and all others had retired half a mile the battery was sprung. The entire township was rocked and not a little damage done to houses within two miles, but there was no hole in the ground, thereby tending to prove the contention that exploding powder presses out and up, not down, and that some foreign agent placed by enemies must have caused the explosion of September 9.

BURNED TO DEATH IN TENT.

18-Months-Old Daughter of H. S. Kimball, a Former Naval Officer, Loses Her Life. RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 8 .- Adele Kimball, he eighteen-months-old daughter of H. S. Kimball of Boston, Mass., was burned to death in a sleeping tent near Tye River to-day. The child was put in the tent by the nurse, who then left her. The fire had broken out and partly burned the tent be fore the blaze was discovered. The girl was already dead when assistance reached

The father of the child, H. S. Kimball, is operating a large stone quarry near Tye River. He was formerly an officer in the United States Navy. He is well known in Washington, Baltimore and New York, but his home is in Boston. He and Mrs. Kimball were at Annapolis when the accident occurred. They have been living in tents near the quarry which Mr. Kimball is operating.

SAVED FROM QUICKSANDS.

Young Woman Has a Nar row Escape From Death in a Denver Street.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 8 .- Miss Edna McDonald had a narrow escape from death last night. She was returning alone from church late in the evening. In crossing a street in South Denver she felt the ground give way, and her body began to sink slowly through a deep bed of slime and sand. The treacherous quicksand slowly but relentlessly began dragging her down. She had sunk to a depth where only her shoulders were above ground, and she could no longer struggle, when her screams atracted the attention of G. D. Johnson, who ran to her assistance.

He tore boards from a fence and, throwing them across the quagmire, was able to reach the almost exhausted girl, but could not lift her out. Placing a board under her chin, he ran for aid, and with six other men succeeded in rescuing her.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR MAY QUIT. Not Because of Any Disagreement With Secretary Root, Attaches Say.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUL ROME, Nov. 8.—It is reported that Signor Edmondo Mayor des Planches, Italian Ambassador to the United States, will resign, owing to strained personal relations with Secretary of State Root, dating from, the time when the New York Metropolitan of the "Saturnalia." Silvestrelli, who is now Ambassador to the court of Spain, probably will succeed him.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 .- At the Italian Empassy it was said that the relations between Secretary Root and the Italian Ambassador are most cordial, and that there is no foundation for the statement that the Ambassador s to leave Washington for good. Signor des Planches sailed from New York yesterday for Europe. For several months he has been suffering with a severe throat trouble, and for many days he could not leave the embassy. The attachés who remain in charge say that if the Ambassador does leave his post it will be solely on account of his health. They have, however, heard no intimation that the Ambassador will not return to Washington at the end of his leave of absence, which will be in about eight or ten months.

HEARST STARTS HIS FIGHT.

GAYNOR ORDERS THE POLICE TO GIVE UP BALLOT BOXES.

Board of Elections Notified to Be Ready to Receive Them-Host of Legal Talent Engaged-Ivins Volunteers to Help

-Many Eager to Win the Rewards. The first step in the fight of William R. Hearst to contest the mayoralty election was taken last night when the Hearst lawyers secured an order from Justice Gaynor in Brooklyn directing the Police Department to deliver the ballot boxes to the Board of Elections forthwith. A copy of the order was served by representatives of Clarence Shearn and Col. S. Bacon on Capt. Cruise in charge of the boxes at Police Headquarters. Justice Gaynor said that the police had no right whatever to retain the boxes. The Board notified to be ready to receive the boxes. The Hearst workers at the Hoffman House heard a report in the afternoon that the Martin B. Brown Company had been at work printing ballots late on Tuesday night. They also got another report, said to have come from friendly policemen, that the ballot boxes were to be opened while in the police hands and stuffed. None of the Hearst men investigated the truth of these reports, but they made up their minds to act at once.

The order directs the Police Commissioner and all his subordinates in the five boroughs to turn over to the Board of Elections forthwith all ballot boxes containing ballots and stubs of ballots, and also to file with the County Clerk before noon to-day all envelopes containing tally sheets, inspectors' returns, defective ballots and ballots marked for identification.

The order was issued on the affidavit of Mr. Hearst's belief that he received a plurality of the votes, but that, according to the returns, 3,600 more votes than he himself received were counted for Mr. McClellan.

Mr. Hearst then refers to statements made to him by various persons regarding the throwing out as defective of ballots which he, according to information and belief, believes should rightly be counted for him.

Capt. Cruise read the order to Commissioner McAdoo over the telephone. The Commissioner's reply was an order to the captain directing him to read the Gaynor order over the telephone to the captains.

The order was indorsed on the back as follows: "The police have nothing whatever to do with ballot boxes and it is most astonishing that they should have possession of them. They have no right to even touch them. HEARST HIRES MANY LAWYERS. Mr. Hearst and the Municipal Ownership League began vesterday to hire lawyers, and it was announced last night that one of the first of the many offers of aid which Mr.

Hearst had received was one from William M. Ivins, the defeated Republican candidate. Mr. Ivins, it was said, had refused to accept any retainer, but had offered his services in probing the alleged irregularities.

Mr. Ivins's aid will be accepted. These lawvers had been hired up night: Austen G. Fox who will take charge in all flive boroughs, Henry De Forest Baldwin of Lord, Day & Lord, John F. Dillon, Julius Henry Cohen and Edward B. Whitney of the Citizens' Union and Alfred Steckler for Manhattan and The Bronx, Charles H. Hyde, Col. A. S. Bacon and Henry F. Cochrane for Brooklyn and William Allaire Shortt and Louis S. Phillips for Richmond. This is not a complete list of the counsel for Mr. Hearst, as other more or less prominent attorneys of this city are to be engaged within a day or two. Mr. Hearst said last night that he believed that a recount of the ballots would give him plurality of at least 4,000. He said that Mr. Coler had informed him that at least that number of legal ballots cast for him had not been counted in Brooklyn alone; and that in Manhattan there were as many

"I did not want to be Mayor," said Mr. Hearst, "but now I do want to be, to vindicate the people's will. I believe that 300,000 persons would have voted for me on election day. We have evidence to show that our watchers were bought up or driven away; that men known to favor me were frightened from the polls, and that the ballots of many men who did vote for me were not counted for one reason or other. There will be no letup in this fight." Mr. Hearst received a lot of telegrams from people urging him to fight, among them being messages from Wayne Mac-Veagh, Thomas W. Lawson and Mayor Dunne of Chicago. The latter sent this

"Believe you are elected, and congratulate you, but watch the machine lest they try to count you out." Mr. Lawson offered Mr. Hearst all kinds of assistance.

CUTTING SAYS HE'LL HELP.

In addition to these messages, Mr. Hearst said he had also received an offer of aid from R. Fulton Cutting. Mr. Cutting, Mr. Hearst said, had informed him that the Citizens' Union would stand behind any Museum of Art rejected Biondi's sculpture attempt to investigate frauds and have them punished.

Mr. Hearst said that he had had letters from many who had opposed him, all informing him that they believed that gross frauds had been perpetrated. There were suggestions, too, that an indignation meeting be held. Mr. Hearst said that he did not care to be behind any such thing; that it was for other people to call such a meeting. One is likely to be held, it was said, within a day or two, either in Durland's

Riding Academy or Cooper Union. Mr. Hearst's headquarters was filled with his supporters yesterday, but Mr. Hearst himself was not visible there. He spent most of the day at his home, in conference with his legal committee and his managers.

SAY BALLOTS WERE WRONGLY PROTESTED. The Hearst adherents said that they had evidence to show that in scores of districts all ballots in which a voter had voted the straight Hearst ticket and then marked a cross in the circle for Jerome instead of in the square to the right of Jerome's name had been left out of the count. In these districts, the Hearst men heard, ballots marked for the Tammany ticket in a similar way had all been counted. The Hearst managers computed these ballots at many
